SOUTHERN LITERARY MESSENGER.

GER.

Published at Richmond, Thomas W. White, and Devoted to every department of Literature and the fine Arts: At $5 per annum, payable in advance.

In the prospectus issued in the infancy of this periodical, we made use of the following language, as a literary journal performs so important a function in the present organization, it behoves him who undertakes such a work to bring with him a fixed determination to make it worthy the rank which it ought to occupy, and the end which it ought to fulfil. Such, the publisher can with confidence assert, is the determination with which he regards the enterprise before him. If writers can be commanded by money, and if unremitting diligence and steady preservation on his part will procure their ordinary results, then may he venture to assure all those who regard for literature may prompt them to look upon his designs with favor, that the Southern Literary Messenger will be worthy of their support.

We are authorized to announce JAMES C. ALDERSON, Esq. as a candidate for the office of Clerk of the Circuit Court of Marshall County.

PROSPECTUS

VICKSBURG SENTINEL.
BY JAMES HAGAN,
EDITOR AND PROPRIETOR.

This paper has been in operation nearly two years and a half; and without the aid of party patronage, it has pressed its way to public favour.

Early foreseeing the desolating effects of our banking system on every species of industry in the State—commercial, agricultural, and mechanical—the Sentinel waged unrelenting war on its injustice, oppression and tyranny. Its defects have been exposed in selfishness and swindling denounces, and the whole machinery by which it deranged commerce, monopolized trade, and transferred the profits of labor to the pockets of a few penniless speculators, have been demonstrated to the satisfaction of the most casual observers.

In assuming this bold position, the Sentinel has found the unfeigned power of the country, wielded by an organized band of swindlers and speculators, virulently arrayed against it. Controlling, as this band does, either directly or indirectly, a large portion of the press of the State, and stimulated as they are by avarice and the most degrading passions of human nature, the war has been carried on internacionem. But reaction has just commenced; time, demonstration, and above all the workings of the vicious system, have conspired to arouse the people to a just sense of their danger. They have taken the alarm, and are preparing to co-operate in every measure calculated to prostrate that system of swindling by which the people of the State have been most shamefully plundered for the last two years.

To extend the usefulness of the Sentinel, and to increase the number of paying subscribers, this prospectus is issued.

The politics of the Sentinel are State Rights, as laid down in the Virginia and Kentucky Resolutions of '98 and '99; and approving most cordially the leading principles both of the State and Federal administrations, its energies will be strenuously devoted to the support of both. The bold stand taken by Governor McNutt against the issue of the irredeemable paper, and his lucid exposition of the evils of our banking system, entitle him to the support of all who prefer the prosperity of the great mass of the people to the interests of a few speculators and bank managers.

The policy of Mr Van Buren, in breaking off all connection between the Banks and State, it is believed will have the most salutary effect on the future destinies of the United States, and particularly on the commercial agricultural, and political interests of the South. The entire exclusion of all bank paper from the fiscal operations of Government, will, it is believed, be found absolutely necessary to terminate those calamitous fluctuations to which this Union has been subjected every few years, since its fiscal concerns have been blended with the private business of corporations and individuals.

Particular attention will be paid to the foreign and domestic markets; and whatever may affect the interests of our merchants and planters will be carefully collected and promptly laid before our readers. The money market, and the movements of capitalists and statesmen abroad, which may either proximately or remotely affect the price of our great staple will be carefully watched.

Literature and the news of the day will receive a due portion of editorial attention.

The Sentinel will, as heretofore, be published daily and weekly—the former at $12, and the latter, at five dollars per annum in advance.

Being excluded from the pale of bank accommodations and our expenses being heavy all cases, we are constrained to require all subsribers to be paid in advance. We risk the transmission by mail.
